

PRIVACY POLICY

.....

We value your privacy. Our website collects and uses information for transaction purposes only. We do not share this information with outside parties. Your email addresses are used solely for correspondence with us and are not shared. We have implemented security measures to protect your data. We respect children's privacy and do not collect information from those under 13 without parental consent. To access or correct your information, contact us. For further inquiries, please call (270) 415-0604.

